ROOSEVELT'S REASONS FOR ASKING VOTES FOR THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

The contest this year in Ohio cannot be anything but a national that would not make the situation ten times worse, In passing the Franchise Tax we had to face the opposition of great corporations. We disregarded their opposition.

We shall do all in our power to destroy anything that upholds monopoly. To meddle with the Tariff would mean economic disaster, to debase the coinage would mean national dishonor. Democrats advocate the dishonor of American arms, the trailing of the American flag in the dust.

Mr. Bryan has developed a visionary scheme for national supervision (of monopolies) which might cause great havoc to industry. We propose to meet the (trust) question by cool, careful study.

Corporations-for what we commonly call trusts are generally merely big corporations-render great service and are indispensable instruments of industry. Our plan is: To try the effect of publicity, then to supplement publicity by taxation, and then by licensing, or whatever measure experience shows to be effective. The Democrats say they are against imperialism. So are we. Not

The Governor's position is summed up as ognize throughout the nation that the concerning in favor of something between allowing the law to become a dead letter and preventing it from being carried out to the tter.

The prognostication that the Board eventually decide to tax franchises basis of capitalizing the average net is of the corporations was within the likes, was shown by a remark made of the Tax Commissioners to a Journ porter.
